*what do you
see?*

what do you notice?

How would you describe this
to someone in another room?

Here, audio description — usually a tool for making visual media accessible to blind and low-vision audiences —
becomes a way of *making meaning

together.*

In rehearsing the unknown together,
Soundtrack for My Funeral

treats

*the unseen
as inspiration.*

Multiple voices
describe the same work,
every perspective its own.

What emerges is collective — living.

This archive is one of the first public chapters of the work.

Mahalo for sharing your voice.

Soundtrack for My Funeral is a community-collaborative project developed through workshops, open rehearsals, and public dialogue.

The recordings gathered here will become material for an installation & performance —
